The Election of 1913 Is All Over

Republican Ticket Wins by Small But Decisive Majorities.

Judge H. T. Day

Sheriff C. H. Back

THE ELECTION

Voting Began Early And
Until the Closing Hour.

Clear skies, brisk morning breezes, warm lazy sunshine and a desire to exercise that unequalled right belonging to a free citizen brought almost every voter to town early. On the streets and alleys everybody were busy as could be and doing what he could decently for his man or men. There was very little evidence, if any, to show that money was being spent. It looked like a fair and square open contest for votes. Up till twelve o'clock perfect peace prevailed and to say nothing of some men who "fell out," and caused some excitement, everything was lovely.

J. Wash Adams was down from Mayking first of the week transacting business.

One of the greatest, soberest and best managed campaigns ever fought in Letcher county comes to an end.

The cool quiet midnight air of Tuesday night pierced by the enthusiastic screams of the Republican Victors.

Victors and Vanquished Join in Happy Laughs and Shake Hands in Friendship.

An end has come to all things in the past and it has come to the 1913 campaign for County officers in Letcher County. In the hottest contested races H. T. Day has pulled it over Ben Caudill by 150 majority, Charlie Back over J. M. Wright by 291, Judge Blair over Dave Hays by a dozen or thereabouts, Will Hall, they say run away with the single-tree over William Breeding, while Arch Lucas captured the Assessor's place over Tom Dixon. The rest of the ticket went in by a large vote.

Judge Blair Is Thankful

Dear Friends: Though my majority is small I want to thank everybody for my election as County Attorney of your County. In all my experience as a candidate I have never fought a pleasanter battle. If my opponent David Hays ever had the least of hard feelings against me I saw no indication of it and I am sure I had none against him. I want to thank him for it. Again, I thank everybody.

Your Friend,
W. H. BLAIR.

With my profoundest respect and love for the people of Letch-

A Strong Indorsement.

Relative to our introductory remarks prefacing the Resolutions regarding vote-buying and vote-selling published in the Eagle of October 23, we have received the following interesting letter:

Editor Mountain Eagle,
Whitesburg, Ky.,
My dear Editor Webb:

The publication in your issue of October 23rd contains to my mind a tremendously important matter in the resolutions in your first column on the first page touching purity of citizenship, as it is manifested at the ballot box. The appeal for the elimination of vote buying is timely. I congratulate you on the editorials connected therewith.

Kentucky has been to the foreground always when patriotism's call has been issued; when the service of the nation is the call her best sons she has willingly given. This has been especially true of the mountain section of Kentucky. There is nothing in the traditions and history of the mountain counties of Kentucky that we can't be prouder of than the ready response to the country's call that her sons have always made.

Those calls have come at the time when the courage shown required that measure of courage which would brave particular danger even to body and limb; danger of bullets, if you please.

These resolutions call for a special manifestation of genuine courage at a time of our country's great need. Election time is a crisis always in a democracy.

This call at this election time is one that requires great courage, great self-control and great charity. This call asks men who are candidates for office to have character enough to stand by the poll if they have made their canvases and have laid their claims before the voters, and take what the citizenship has decided to give them. A man may be a loser so far as getting office is concerned, but he is a winner in that he keeps his self-respect.

The peril of "bullets" requires courage and the peril of "ballots" requires not less courage. I do not know that this will reach you in time to be published before the election—even if you care to publish it at all, but I did want to offer this expression of your courageous appeal, and also to add my word of greeting and hope that our fellow countrymen would heed this timely call.

Respectfully,
Lewis Brothers.

CLERK R. B. BENTLEY

er County, I am

Yours very truly,
JONATHAN C. DAY.

New York, Oct. 28, 1913.

The letter of course was intended for last week's Eagle, but reached us too late for that. We publish it, however, hoping that it will be worth something when our Grand Juries set and in the future as well.

Extends the Term.

A few days ago State Superintendent Hamlett announced that this year the State will have enough funds available to extend all rural schools one month longer. Consequently our schools will be taught for a term of seven months instead of six as heretofore taught.

Will Open Office.

Dr. T. G. Wright, well known McRoberts Dentist was in to see us Monday and informed us that he is opening up an office in Flemming for the practice of his profession. Dr. Wright is one of our most active young business men.

Happily Married.

On last Thursday at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Cornett on Dry Fork, Joseph, son of the late Eld. Sam Caudill, was united in matrimony to Miss Mary J. Cornett.

The Eagle takes this opportunity of wishing this young couple long lives of happiness and peace as they sail along the trouble fringed pathway of life, and may they have a happy sun set at the end.

William Banks, of Smoot creek, has located with his family in the new residence lately erected by J. H. Frazier on North second Main street, Frazier Addition and it is said will keep a boarding house.

Election Notes

A car load of voters came down from McRoberts, Mayking and Sargent Tuesday morning.

Uncle Wiley, Ned and Uncle Sam Webb three of the oldest standbys in the up river section, Uncle George Brown, Watty Adams and Uncle Dixon Caudill, from the lower end, old in the cause of this country were on hand to vote in Tuesdays election. We are always glad to see old patriarchs like these come out again.

It was the most peculiar campaign and the strangest election ever held in the county. It was cross-legged from start to finish, a "tangled hank." It will remain so in this country for a long time because everybody else is akin to everybody else and blood is thicker than water.

Chestnuts and apples and much old fashion sorghum ginger bread sold readily on the streets and the ladies of the town offered and sold big dishes of soup and sandwiches to the weary and hungry.

There was evidently plenty of that that intoxicates around but there was little evidence of its use to be seen on the streets or near the polls. The law is very strict in this regard and our people are generally all sober on election day. It is a good idea.

Taking it all in all there are no times like election times. On this day the old fathers shoulder their canes and hobble away to the polls.

Here they meet the hundreds and hundreds of their younger friends and in a spirit of good feeling mingle and laugh and talk and mix to their hearts content. When peace prevails and joy runs high they feel oh, so much better! Though, they fail in electing their men they rejoice with those who rejoice and saw wood with those who saw. Tuesday's election was another one of these big good times. Hurrah!

Attention Readers.

Within the next Month or so we are going to try to double our subscription list. We are planning to many times over double the capacity of the Eagle for work in order to meet the rapid increasing business coming to us and shall take this as one of the methods to do so. If there remains a live citizen in the county who is not already a subscriber it is high time for him to get among his thousands and over brethren.

A great wave of development, not only along industrial and business lines, but along all other lines, is rapidly spreading over Letcher County and this end of the State and no housekeeper, business man, citizen or farmer can afford to allow himself to stand idly in the rear or remain ignorant of what is transpiring right in his midst. Over the pathway of progress, along the avenues of business, right down in the channels where the brawny arms of labor strike for gold will be found the Eagle inspiring and encouraging, building hopes and dispensing sunshine at every opportunity, aye, making the opportunity. Every reading and thinking man in the county knows already that this publication, week in and week out, (weak in and weak out also) has during all its career done all in its power for a better, braver and nobler citizenship. On the enforcement of the laws, on the building of better school and church houses, on the education, moral and physical development of the Youths of our county the Eagle has ever stood champion and on these it will depend in the future for prestige and support. We know our cause is just and our work righteous. But we are to the point where the demand is greater and the work more extensive than our present facilities will warrant. Therefore, the necessity for a number of modern and more up-to-date equipments. Later and at a more opportune time more definite explanations will be forthcoming. Get ready to get right into the boat. Steady!

School News And Notes

By Prof. Woodson.

"Reading makes the full man" an old and true saying; thence reading is the basis for our "heavy editorial" for this week.

Le Sage, the author of Gil Blas, every page of which sparkles with wit and wisdom, adduces the following illustration to show why a student should not lay aside the book after reading a few pages. Two scholars on their way from Pennafla to Salamanca, being thirsty and fatigued, sat down by a spring they met with themselves, after having quenched their thirst: they preceived, by accident, upon a stone that was even with the surface of the earth, some letters, already half effaced by time and the feet of flocks that came to water at the fountain. Having washed the stone, they read these words in the Castilian tongue; "Aquieta encerrando la alma del Licenciado, Pedro Garcia." The younger of the two being like some modern "smart Allecs," no sooner read the inscription than he cried with a loud laugh, A good joke! foith. Here is interred the soul—a soul interred. Who in the mischief could be the author of so wise an epitaph." So saying, he arose and walked away, while his companion, who was blessed with a greater share of penetration, said to himself: "There is some mystery in this affair, I'll stay and unriddle it." Accordingly, his companion was no sooner out of sight than he began to dig about it, and found beneath it a leathern purse containing a hundred ducats and a card on which was written in Latin: "Whosoever thou art who has wit enough to discover the meaning of this inscription, inherit my money and make a better use of it than I have done." The thoughtful schollar rejoicing in his good fortune, replaced the stone and went home to Salamanca with the soul of a licentiate. Though this was intended but as an argument in favor of the careful reading of the book of which it is the preface, it aptly characterizes two classes of readers and two classes of scholars in our modern schools and colleges—the one class composed of those who pass the various divisions of the course of study and finish their education with the reception of a diploma, and the other quite a different class who, regarding their scholastic training as the means, and not the end of all school life, pursue their profitable and pleasurable literary labors, and, in the end, reap a rich harvest of imperishable wealth and unalloyed delight. "For what wealth is better than knowledge which enriches the mind, moderates its desire, teaches us to make a right use of time, and promotes the happiness of others. It is superior to the very elements. Fire, earth, air, and water have no power over it. It can use them as its servants. It walks with us into the vale of years, and does not leave us when we die."

CLARK IN FAVOR OF DISARMAMENT

Speaker Opposed to Large Expenditures for Building of Costly Battleships.

URGES USE OF BLOCK SYSTEM

Illinois Man Declares It is Easier to Avert Train Wrecks Than to Provide Steel Cars to Mitigate Fatalities From Them.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Speaker Champ Clark in the house declared in favor of a policy of disarmament for the United States and indicated his opposition to large expenditures by the government for the construction of costly battleships. The speaker's remarks were on the resolution of Representative Hanley of Missouri declaring the willingness of this country to co-operate with Great Britain in securing a cessation of naval construction for one year.

"The United States ought to lead in this movement," said the speaker. "When the full membership of the house is here I want to see this resolution passed."

Easier to Prevent Collision.

"It is far easier to take steps to avert collisions and derailments than to provide steel cars to mitigate fatalities almost inevitable consequent upon and resulting from such collision."

This statement was made today before the National Association of Railway Commissioners by William Kilpatrick of Illinois, who urged the general adoption of the block system of signals by railroads of the country and rigid discipline for disregard of signal indications.

Mr. Kilpatrick said that an advance signal should be installed in connection with every block with an overlap which would prevent a train's release until the preceding train had passed to enable the following train to stop.

Convention Adopts Report.

The convention unanimously adopted the report presented by Mr. Kilpatrick, urging the use of safety appliances.

Interstate Commerce Commissioner Meyer, discussing rate making, stated that as the cost of service was the determining factor, it was "high time" that the question of the division of expenses among the several branches of the service should be thrashed out.

Representative Mann of Illinois introduced a resolution in the house calling on the Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo for information regarding the enforcement of the per cent. clause in the tariff law.

CUTTING LAST CANAL BARRIER

Engineers Find Very Difficult Task in Opening Way Through Cucaracha Slide.

Washington, Nov. 1.—The task of opening a way through Cucaracha slide, the sole remaining obstacle to navigation through the Panama canal, has been carried on as "rush work" since the blowing up of the Gamboa dike, according to a dispatch received from the isthmus. The engineers have been putting forth Herculean efforts to clear the half-mile obstruction, but the work is often done overnight by a stamping back of the material removed. The recent sharp rise in the level of Gatun lake, however, has increased the size of the ditch so that now 7,000,000 cubic feet of water daily is passing over the slide and sufficient water now has been admitted to permit the big steam dredges to enter the cut and operate on the earth barrier.

Three Other French Sailors Perish in Midcean Disaster, Wireless Announces.

Hamburg, Germany, Nov. 1.—Twenty-two of the 25 men in the crew of the French bark Patrie were rescued in midcean by the Hamburg-American liner Kronprinzessin Cecilie. The liner found the Patrie burning and disabled in midocean, according to wireless dispatches. The German captain launched boats and took off the crew.

Three of the French sailors had been washed overboard and drowned just before the arrival of the liner. The Patrie was a vessel of 300 tons displacement and hailed from Fecamp, France. The Kronprinzessin Cecilie is on the way here from Mexico.

Queenstown, Ireland, Nov. 1.—After one of the stormiest voyages of her career, the liner Merion arrived here after a 12-day trip from Philadelphia, and discharged her passengers. Judge Dissents From Opinion.

Contracts made by telephone companies with the General Councils of cities in which they are trying to secure or have secured a franchise should be carried out, and they should not be permitted to increase these rates in a new franchise. Such is the opinion of Appellate Judge Carroll, which is expressed in his dissenting opinion in the case of Keele Lutes against the Fayette Home Telephone Company. He says:

"The facts of this case, as stated in the opinion, furnish a striking illustration of the reasons why the doctrine announced in the opinion should not prevail. Under the franchise the telephone company obligated itself to furnish to the people of Lexington for a term of years business phones at $30 per annum and residence telephones at $18 per annum. Under the new contract made between the Council and the telephone company the telephone company was allowed to charge and exact without limitation any fee it might fix, and, in fact, did charge for business phones $42 and for residence telephones $24. For this large increase in rates, which may be further increased, the company did nothing. It was not required to do under the franchise contract. The right to levy this excess rate on the people of Lexington was a bonus or gift presented to the telephone company by the Council without consideration of any kind. The only gainer by this transaction was the telephone company; the only losers the people.

"If the methods authorized by this opinion is to prevail, then any public service corporation can secure from the Council in the manner pointed out in the constitution a valid and a valuable franchise contract, beneficial to the people of the city, and thereafter, whenever it can procure a Council favorable to its interest, make a new contract, putting on the people of the city heavier burdens than the old contract imposed."

Judge Carroll, who dissented in the Louisville Home Telephone Company case against the city of Louisville, 130 Ky., 611, said, "It goes a step further than that case. In the Louisville Home Telephone case the Council required the telephone company to go through the form of buying a franchise before it could relieve itself of the obligations imposed by its first franchise contract. In this case the Council boldly undertook by an ordinance to relieve the telephone company of its obligations to the people and made a new contract. In short, the court holds that a Council may at any time by an ordinance abrogate a contract and give to a public service corporation anything it wants without any regard to whether the people affected will be benefited or not. This opinion removes that last restraint imposed by the constitution for the protection of the people and leaves conditions precisely as they were before its enactment."

Some Interesting Statistics.

Kentucky's roads, including the right of way, bridges and machinery, represent an investment of approximately $50,000,000," said Commissioner of Roads R. C. Terrell. "For the maintenance of these the state and counties spend annually a little more than four per cent of the cost of reproduction. The railroads of the country keep on a payroll a man for every mile of their trackage, and a railroad corporation averages an annual expenditure of nearly four per cent for its buildings and like equipment, aside from the maintenance of its rights of way."

Commissioner Terrell estimated the length of roads at 57,000 miles, containing within their rights of way 220,000 acres, averaging a value of $50 the acre. This gives an original investment of $11,000,000, which, he figures, is easily increased to $50,000,000 by improvements.

City is Not Liable.

When a city establishes the first grade of a street it is not liable for damages done to property by reason of the establishment of the grade. The Appellate Court so decided in the case of Louis Gernert, of Louisville, against the city of Louisville, in which the judgment sustaining the general demurrer to her petition for damages was affirmed. The limits of Louisville were so extended as to take in a part of Jefferson county through which the Bardstown pike runs, and the city laid an asphalt street along the pike, making a grade, as Mrs. Gernert claimed, that damaged her property. As it was the first grade made by the city, the court held that Mrs. Gernert could not recover damages.

Railroad Files Answer.

The Glasgow Railroad Company filed answer to the complaint of J. M. Richardson, of Glasgow, before the State Railroad Commission, asking that the road be required to reduce passenger fares from five to three cents a mile. The road denied that it was making abnormal profits or that the rate is exorbitant.

New Trial is Ordered.

Judgment of the Hopkins Circuit Court was reversed in an opinion by Judge Carroll. A. R. Franklin, an employee of the Rose Creek Coal Company, was killed on a coal tipple by a runaway car striking the car by which he was working. It was contended that plaintiff was negligent in permitting car to be used with defective brakes. A demurrer was sustained to the petition, but the Court of Appeals held that in the exercise of ordinary care the railroad company is responsible for the condition of the brakes.

REWARD.

Squire Blair, of Thornton, offers a reward for a medium sized black, short haired dog, white spot in breast. When last seen October 7 was at end of county bridge in Whitesburg.

Licked by Flames.

City of Jackson Suffers Great Loss by Fire. $150,000 Damages.

JACKSON, KY., Nov. 1st, 1913.

The greatest and most destructive conflagration known in the history of Breathitt county occurred here Friday night. About the hour of eight o'clock flames were discovered in a small building near the Thompson Hotel on Broadway and before assistance could be rendered had consumed the building and spread to a number of others near by. From this time forward and almost throughout the entire night, though every possible effort was made to check them, the flames licked right and left almost the entire length of Broadway even reaching out on other streets. A total of thirty-one different buildings were destroyed. Among these were, seven residences, the Thompson Hotel, the Baptist and Presbyterian church buildings, ten stores, the post-office, and two drug stores. For a long time the new Jefferson hotel and the First National Bank building were threatened. Merchants, housekeepers and others carried much of their wares into the street and for some time were forced to stand guard over these to prevent thefts. However, early this morning in response to the request of the authorities here for troops for the protection of merchandise and other personal property. Governor McCreary ordered out the local company of State Guards to patrol the town. The town has been practically under martial law ever since and the best of order has prevailed. Of course the soldier boys are acting under the direction of the civil authorities.

It will likely be a week before the total loss by the fire can be anything like even estimated but the loss will, in all probability, reach as high as $150,000.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

No one can truthfully accuse the Eagle of having taken any part or parcel in the election just passed. All the candidates, all the time, felt to us just like a bunch of brothers, friends to whom we could but stick close, and in the exercise of our franchise, a heritage the most sacred, we felt like there was scarcely any choice. To all the men elected, remember that in the performance of your every duty the Eagle will stand bravely by you, lauding you the skies if necessary, when you perform your duty and sulking in its nest or hiding its proud beak under its wing when you fail or refuse, should you.

Quite a crowd of citizens came to town Monday many of whom were busy as bees in the election.

Western Newspaper Union News Service, Frankfort.—Gov. McCreary issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:

"We should offer praise and thanks giving to God for His manifest blessings, and unite in earnest supplication for their continuance."

"The year now drawing to a close has been marked by manifestations of His kind and benevolent providings, and we should reaffirm our allegiance to righteousness, justice, freedom, education and progress."

"Our republic has had peace with the whole world and demonstrated its capacity and readiness to meet and deal properly with great and important questions."

"Our state has had prosperity, good harvests, productive industries, happy and contented people. Law and order have been preserved. The glorious heritage of self-government has been upheld and strengthened, and the year has brought us better appreciation of our duty and higher desire for good achievements; and wherever we may look or whatever we may think, we have abundant cause for praise and gratitude to God."

STRIKE AND RIOT

PISTOLS WERE USED DURING STREET CAR TROUBLE IN INDIANAPOLIS.

One Man Killed and Another Wounded
—Score of Non-Unionists Beaten
By the Crowd.

Western Newspaper Union News Service, Indianapolis, Ind.—One man killed, one seriously shot, several badly beaten and a score of cars battered, was the net Sunday toll of the street car strike here. Isaac Fleisher, 24 years old, Philadelphia, said to be an imported strike breaker, was shot to death during a riot at the Louisiana street bars. Jeff Thompson, Indianapolis, a striking motorman, was shot in the shoulder by a patrolman who was aboard a car that was being stoned. A score of strike breakers were beaten terribly by a mob of strike sympathizers before the police could disperse the crowd. More than a score of men were arrested and the jails are now crowded to the limit with prisoners who are unable to give bond. Gov. Ralston was in communication with prominent business men who are trying to bring about peace, but he is not preparing to order out the militia. He contends that the local authorities should handle the situation.

Sheriff Portous decided to swear in 200 special deputies to aid the police. Leading business men were in session at the Commercial club several hours discussing the situation. Mayor Shank and Police Superintendent Hyland, who were with them, admitted their inability to cope with the situation. Gov. Ralston stated that he is not going to call out the troops to take charge of the situation. He is confident that the situation can be handled by the local authorities.

WOMEN SHOULDER GUNS

Del Rio, Texas.—Women of Mexico are playing a prominent part in the warfare of the southern republic, either as "soldaderas" foraging successfully for the men folk in the armies or occasionally as actual fighters. This is true, probably because the present revolution has touched individuals and homes more intimately than any other conflict of recent times in Mexico. Scores of women have left their homes rather than remain alone, and many of them have gone under fire to get revenge.

STEAMER STRIKES ICEBERG

Montreal, The Freight steamer Manchester Commerce, which left here for Manchester, England, struck an iceberg in the Strait of Belle Isle and sustained severe damage. The steamer, however, was not disabled and Capt. Couch was able to shape her course for St. Johns, Newfoundland, then earliest port, where she will be docked for repairs.

SIX ELECTIONS ON TOMORROW

National Issues Figure in the Exciting Contests in Several Atlantic Seaboard States.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Nation wide issues will figure tomorrow in the elections to be held in six states of the eastern seaboard, but nowhere will local questions be so nearly overshadowed as in New Jersey, of which President Wilson is the leading citizen. He has thrown the whole weight of his influence to James F. Fielder, who became governor when Mr. Wilson left for the White House, and Mr. Fielder's defeat would be a distinct setback for the national administration. The stirring fight against Tammany in New York city and state, the vivid revelations of John A. Heenan and the deposed governor, William Sulzer, and the attempt of the latter to enter the legislature which ousted him, fixes eyes upon the Empire state. In an interesting four-cornered contest, Massachusetts candidates have fought, but unsuccessfully, for the elimination of national issues. The Progressives are putting up a strong front in Pennsylvania, and Philadelphia is grappling with its own "graft" exposures. The liquor question is a burning issue in Virginia. Maryland has its first direct election of a United States senator.

FAVORS FOUR RESERVE BANKS

Senate Committee Votes for This Number in Starting Currency System.

Washington, Nov. 3.—The senate banking and currency committee tentatively agreed upon four regional reserve banks for the proposed currency system, with a proviso that after two years the federal reserve board may add as many banks as it deems necessary, not exceeding twelve. The pending bill fixes the number at twelve and it has been understood that the administration would not consent to have it reduced below nine.
